

GVO is changing this summer

The National College®

As part of the acquisition of GVO by The National College, there will be some changes coming over the summer months that you may notice as we start to build the integration with The National College.

Governance Manager

GVO will be rebranded as Governance Manager and the platform will be updated to a new, modern design.

You will also receive complimentary access to the Leadership & Governance module from The National College, offering great value and outstanding service.

The Leadership & Governance module will give you access to:

Expert governance guidance and practical resources

Regular policy and compliance updates

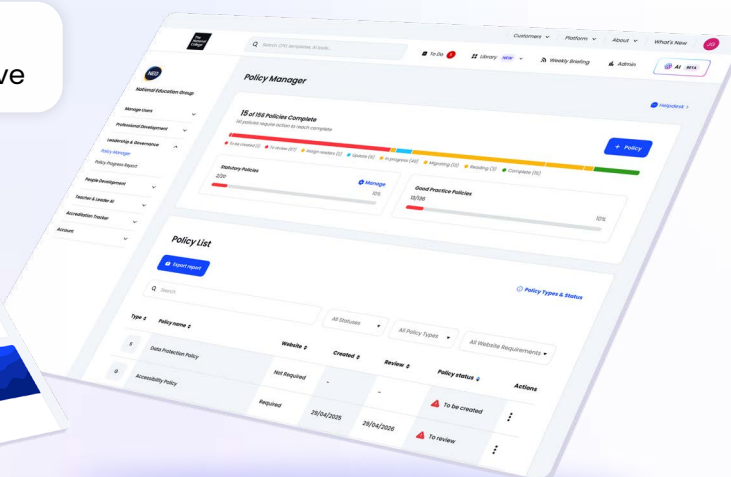

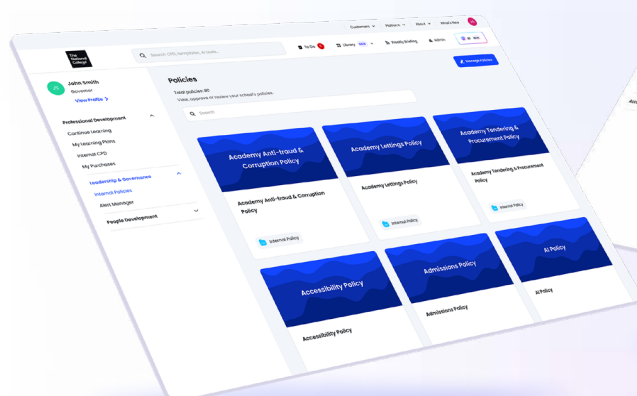

Governance-focused training and learning content

Templates, checklists and best-practice materials

Support to help your board stay informed, compliant and effective

Please be assured that there will be no changes to the way your data and information is handled and stored, and there is nothing that you need to do.

The changes will take place ahead of the new term starting in September, when you will be redirected to The National College login screen to access Governance Manager.
